ADVANCE DIRECTIVES GIVE VOICE TO YOUR CHOICE

This workbook was developed by the Connecticut Legal Rights Project to help you prepare a legal document called an Advance Directive. An Advance Directive allows you to influence your health care treatment when you are unable to do so.

Judges, hearing officers and conservators must consider your choices and respect the preferences in your advance directive when making decisions about your treatment.

CLRP has three flyers on this topic that can help:

Basics of Advance Directives for Health Care
Choosing a Health Care Representative
How to Be an Effective Health Care Representative

This workbook is NOT a legal document. It collects information that will be used by lawyers at CLRP to prepare your advance directive.

If you have questions about this workbook or advance directives, call CLRP at 1-877-402-2299 or go to CLRP's website at www.clrp.org.

WHY TAKE THE TIME TO DO AN ADVANCE DIRECTIVE?

Advance Directives have helped others…They can help you.

"I was tired of my family always having control over my life. I wanted to have choices. I wanted to have a say in my life. Advance Directives are a very beneficial tool. I feel people should take the time to make them because you never know what life may throw you." Leslie E.

"It allows loved ones not to have to make difficult decisions when faced with end of life emotions."

Charles E.

2. Oversee execution of the document (have you sign the document with two witnesses and a notary present);
3. Distribute it according to your wishes;
4. Provide you with a laminated wallet card;
5. Maintain a copy of your advance directive on file; and
6. Send annual reminders to review your advance directive.

3. REVIEW YOUR ADVANCE DIRECTIVE ANNUALLY

- Your advance directive can last forever. However, some of your preferences may change over time.
- Your health care instructions concerning any aspect of health care, including the withholding or withdrawal of life support systems, may be revoked at any time and in any manner without regard to your mental status. If you want to revoke your appointment of health care representative, you must do it in writing and have it witnessed.
